Omeals Crunchy Cheese Bites

You just discovered the full range of products from Omeals. They looked like the perfect products for outdoor eating while on long hikes. It turns out that they are.

I love that the cheese bites they offer are high in protein and calcium. These are not your ordinary junk food variety cheesy snacks. They are different like all the meals that are offered by Omeals are.

Everything is offered in convenient packages so you can pack them up in your backpack and just go. The cheese bites are crunchy and stay that way from a special moisture-reducing production process.

Lentils with Beef

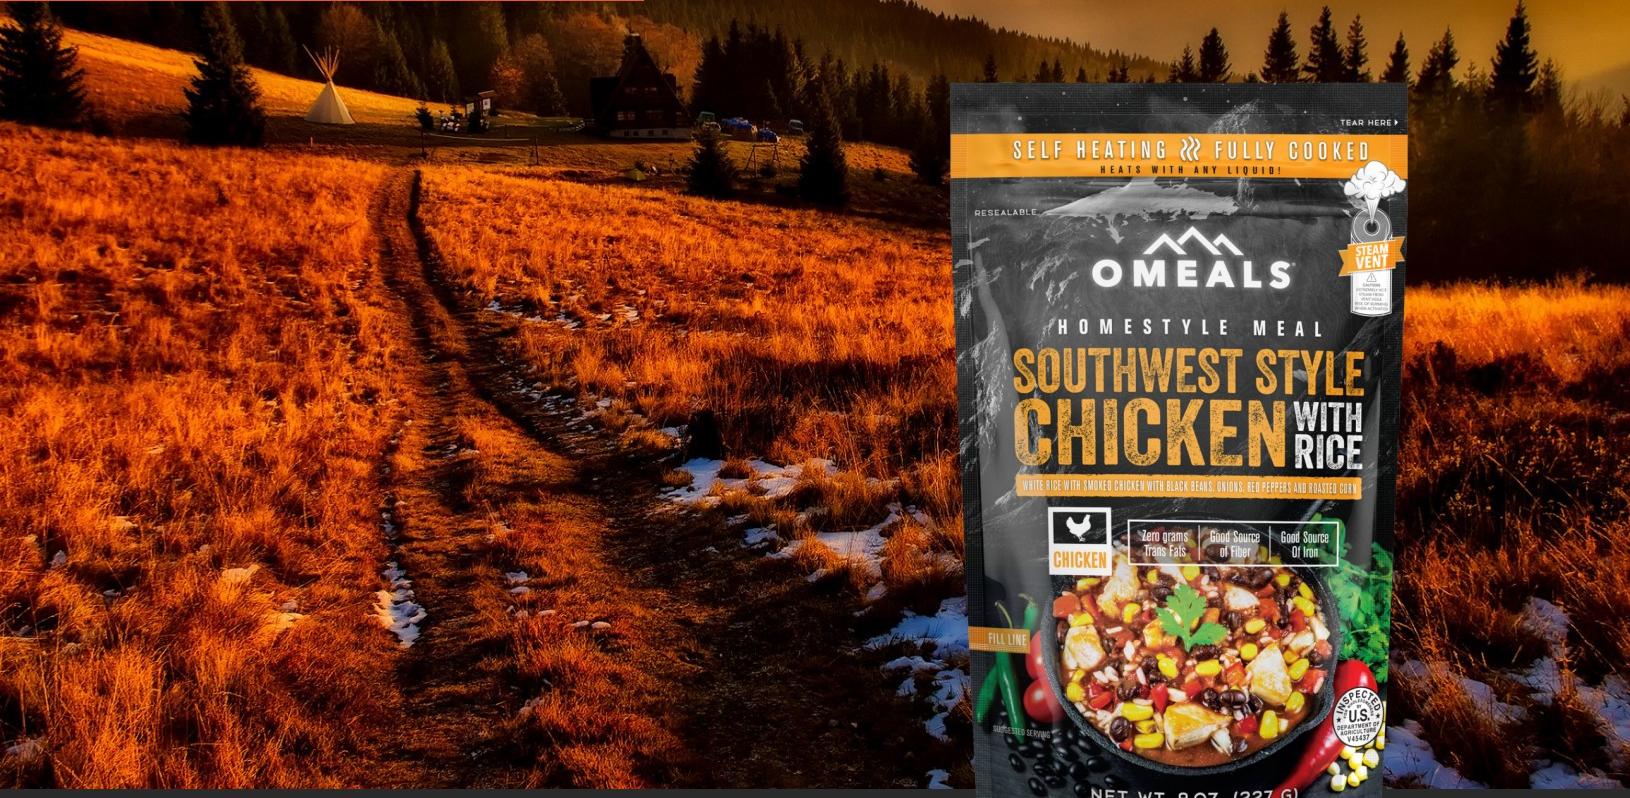

Omeals brings you another delectable and portable self-heating meal. This time it is Lentils with Beef. This high fiber, low cholesterol meal is the perfect cap to an active day of hiking.

Open the package and let it heat for you in three to five minutes. You will enjoy the rich taste of beef, spices and burgundy wine. Carrots round out the dish. Like all of their dishes, this is not made of any freeze-dried ingredients.

These self-heating meals are lightweight and self-contained. They are easy to carry wherever your outdoor journeys take you.

Southwest Style Chicken Meal

BY OMEALS

This meal offers the taste of authentic Tex-Mex with chunks of tender chicken, black beans, corn and a delicious blend of rice. Eat it while camping or hiking.

Like all of Omeals foods, this one is not made of any freeze-dried products. It is delivered to you in a convenient-to-eat-from package with plenty of nutrients like iron and fiber. Open the package, and the special materials heat it for you in minutes.

Omeals is the maker of many hot and almost weightless meals made for outdoor use. It was created by athletes, entrepreneurs, and outdoor fans.
